HONOR POINT BANQUET

The theme of this year's Honor Point Banquet, "Around the World in 80 Days," was certainly an appropriate one. It was used in the meal, which consisted of famous foods from various countries, in the decorative centerpieces, in the music by the combo, and also in the talk given by Mr. W. E. Jackson and his wife, who had just completed a trip around the world.

During the evening Mr. Pease recognized the top ten honor point holders in each class and awarded the ten seniors with achievement pins. The honor point committee, headed by Caroline Cromwell and advised by Miss Svoda, put in many months of hard work counting all the honor points and planing the very succesful banquet.

The beginning of a beautiful end . . .

The final touch of a delicious meal . . .

Lost in our dreams.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

Palm trees, a grass hut, and lovely hula girls set the romantic pace for the '58 Junior-Senior Prom. The exotic setting of "Tahiti" was selected by the second semester junior class officrs, whose advisor and co-worker was Miss Powell. Tropical fruit punch was served by girls garbed in grass skirts as the Off-Beats added to the dreamy mood of the evening with enticing music. Warm memories of their last high school dance are cherished by the seniors.

"Are you sure this is the ladder to success?"

An imported bit of Tahiti . . .

The decorations, food, and seniors were at their best . . .

Looks like Jim has done too much toasting.

SENIOR BANQUET

Oh, no! ! Not another Pathfinder.

On May 29 we seniors filed from our gathering place on the school lawn into the Senior Banquet, our last social event of the year. After a delicious meal served in the girls' gym by the junior girls, our master of ceremonies, Jim Fruehling, introduced singer Alice Pemble and violinist Carol Johnston who provided entertainment. Lines from the poem "Roots" provided the themes for the short talks delivered next by Shirley Zaiss, John Hill, and Pat Wilson. The combo, which had provided background music during dinner, ended the first part of the evening with a medley of tunes.

At the Web we received our long-awaited Pathfinders and started the hectic round of getting them signed. Those who had time got in a dance or two, and then we started home—tired but contented.

Our special thanks go to Miss May Hohlen for the lovely decorations, to Mmes. Riepe and Roslyn for food, and especially to our very helpful and patient advisers, Mr. Milton Meuler and Miss Virginia Padovan.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

In a Senior Awards assembly, a select group of Seniors were initiated into the National Honor Society by several college members. Teachers and classmates chose the group from the upper quartile of the class on the basis of leadership, character, scholarship, and service. To those who received these special awards, they signified the culmination of many hours of hard work and sacrifice.

Don Stevenson beame the first National Merit Scholarship winner in the history of BHS. This four-year grant, sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Corporation, will be applied to the college of his choice. James Fruehling and Philip Klein, along with Don, received Certificates of Merit for qualifying as finalists in the contest.

Larry Friedman achieved the perfect scholastic record by maintaining a four-point grade average throughout his high school years.

This page has been sponsored by the National Bank.

Sylvania presented monetary awards in science to Philip Klein and in business to Dorothea Erickson.

Judy Roselyn was awarded a scholarship sponsored by the Home Economics department of BHS.

In the National Distributive Education program contest, Marie Stevenson placed second with an essay entitled "Selling as a Career," while Donald Davis received first in Ad Layout and Copy Writing.

SPECIAL SENIOR

The Des Moines County Chapter of the Iowa Bar Association presented its annual citizenship awards to Shirley Zaiss, Larry Friedman, and Caroline Cromwell.

Dale Hurliman received the Bausch and Lomb award for a student excelling in the study of science.

The American Legion presented Patricia Wilson with an outstanding student award.

AWARDS

During the exercises, Alice Jo Pemble was awarded the Marilee Fladt Memorial Scholarship by Mr. Carl C. Riepe.

Commencement exercises for the Burlington High School and College graduates of '58 were held June 4th at the Bracewell Stadium. Graduation speeches were delivered by Alan Pistorium and Elizabeth Nelson, representatives of their respective classes. In a short address, Dr. Millard Pond extended his congratulations to the classes and Mr. Pease, with the assistance of Mr. Walter Eyre, presented the diplomas. The invocation and benediction were given by the Reverend John P. Groen and the Reverend John W. Brigham. Music was provided by the underclassmen in the BHS band.

Baccalaureate services for the graduates were held Sunday evening, June 1st, at the Memorial Auditorium. "You Need Not Walk Alone" was the text of the sermon delivered by the Reverend Bruce H. Masselink. The Reverend Paul Daussman and the Reverend Emanuel Wolff also participated in the service. Several inspiring selections, "Let Thy Holy Presence" and "My Shepherd Will Supply My Needs," were sung by the Burlington High School and College Choirs under the direction of Miss Phyllis McAdams. The High School and College Orchestra, under Mr. Siebers, played the processional and recessional.

FOREWORD

TO THE CLASS OF 1958:

Memories form a very significant part of our lives. Although we have many others, those acquired during our wonderful high school years are memories we will always treasure.

This annual will provide a record of this chapter in our lives. We hope in future years it will provide a way of reliving these "green and salad years."

THE GREEN YEARS

Too old to play house
And too young to keep one;
Too much knowledge
To accept opinions
And too little
To form solid ones of our own . . .
Youth is but a fleeting moment,
Brief as a spring blossom.
Shaw said youth is wasted on the young . . .
We do not want to waste these years
So few, so precious.

No more pulling pony tails or teasing girls until they cry for Pat and Joe, Alice and Pat.

ARE THE GROWING YEARS

Sling shots and water pistols
Are packed away, forgotten.
Assignments and responsibilities
Are no longer ignored.
When we take a job
We stick to it;
We finish what we start.
We learn the meaning
Of integrity, honesty, and honor.

n a Student Council meeting.

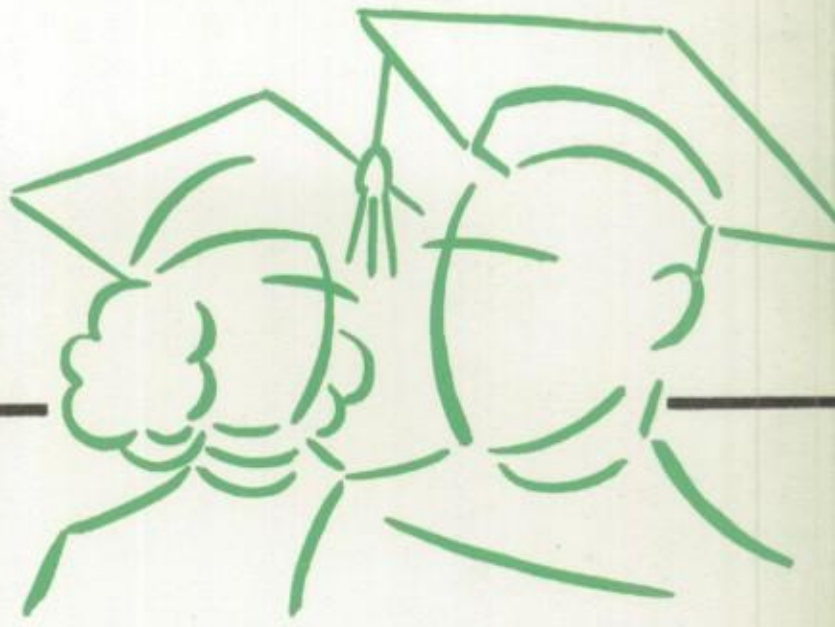
Selling concessions at the games is one of the duties of the service committee.

THE LAUGHING YEARS

Youth is laughter, too . . .
Getting together to talk
And eat weird concoctions;
It is parties and dances,
Rustling skirts and red roses;
It is football games
And Homecoming floats,
Sweatshirts, and hot chocolate;
It is laughing and talking,
Yelling and teasing . . .
Youth smiles at its elders —
And at itself!

"In the winter we will build a snowman . . ." say Richie and Linda as they put the final touches on their Parson Brown.

THE DREAMING YEARS



As the rushing sea
Changes the patterns of the sand,
The tide of life
Changes what we are.
We learn to accept reality
And know ourselves.
Shielded no longer
We challenge life,
Knowing that life gives back
Only what we put in . . .
And always we dream.

Homework gets off to a slow start as Larry and Julie take time out to discuss more important subjects.

Crapo Park's fairyland splendor creates a perfect setting for Shirley's dreams.

THE QUESTING YEARS

Yes, youth is a time for hoping
And seeking beauty
In warm spring rain
And pale green leaves;
Of believing
In the goodness of creation;
Of asking
Where did I come from?
Why was I put here?
Where am I going?
A time to seek
Wisdom and truth
And chart our lives
By these answers.

HARD WORKING EXECUTIVES

Advancing the Burlington School system is the job of Dr. Millard Z. Pond and Dr. Harry W. Kingham. As superintendent, Dr. Pond's duties include planning the future of the system, interviewing and hiring new teachers, and planning the school budget.

Co-ordinating the curriculum of the secondary schools is the job of Dr. Harry Kingham. Working with the teachers and administrators of the junior highs, high school, and college is a main part of his program. He is also responsible for the BHS adult night school program.

OUTLINE THE CURRICULUM

As principal of Burlington High School, Mr. Pease carries out a multitude of various duties. Being responsible for the management and supervision of the curriculum is an unending job. No job is too slight or too large for our principal's consideration. There is never a spare moment for Mr. Lucas. Administration of the office, discipline, and attendance make up only a few of his duties.

STUDENT COUNCIL

REPRESENTED STUDENT BODY . . . . . .

As one of the busiest organizations of BHS, the Student Council planned and sponsored many affairs. Through this democratic body, consisting of representatives chosen from each administrative room, the students had a chance to voice their opinions, favorable or unfavorable. After dividing into several standing committees, the Council began working on many projects. Sponsoring Homecoming, the foreign exchange program, the United Fund Drive, and the Christmas project kept them very busy. Heading the Council were Jim Stanbary, President; Steve Buescher, Vice-President; Carolyn Brockway, Secretary; Larry Friedman, Treasurer; and Tom Bailey, Sergeant-at-Arms. With the guidance of Mr. Dodds and Mr. Pease, the Student Council accomplished many worthwhile projects.

Planning the agenda for future Council meetings is the Executive Committee.

Miss Jacobson, as yearbook advisor, had many, many worries. With much patience she guided the staff and saw that the book was completed by the deadline.

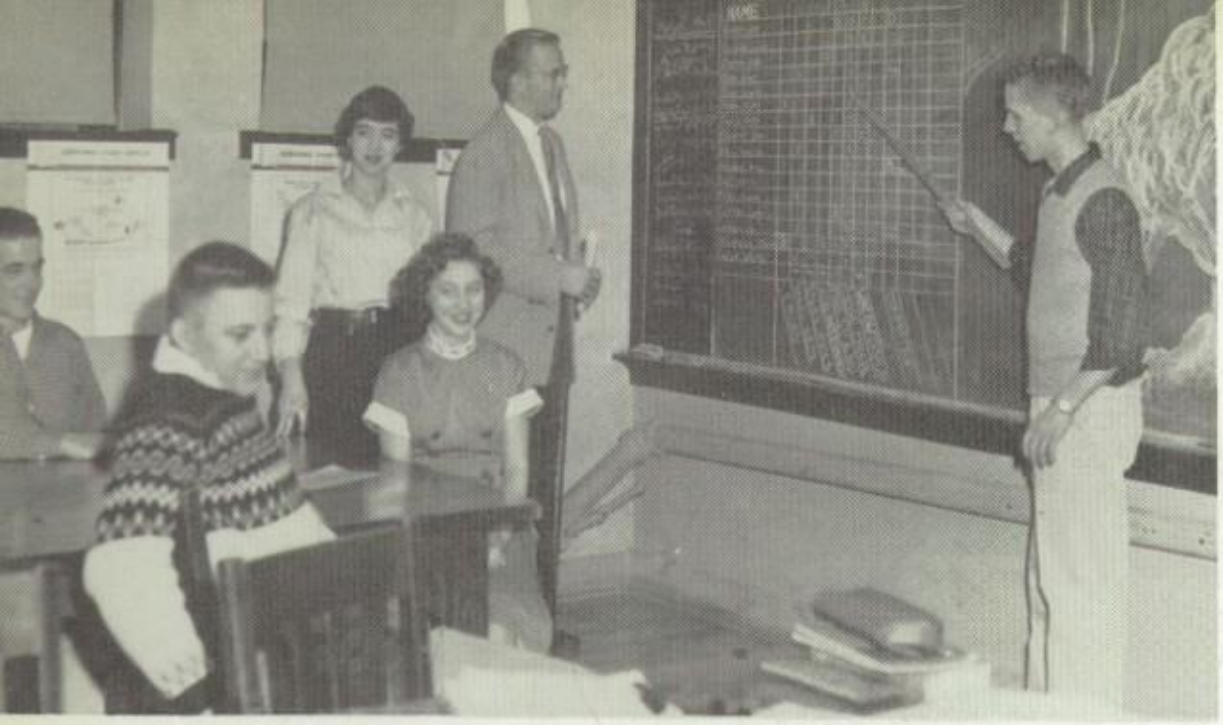
IDEAS BECAME REALITY FOR THE '58 STAFF

This is what we did 3rd. period!

After choosing "Green Years" as our theme, the 1958 Pathfinder Staff opened its campaign. Many ads were sold and several silly skits were given in assembly. Our quota made, the real work began. Class portraits, pictures of special events, and copy writing presented innumerable headaches.

As Editor-in-Chief, Carolyn Plock organized the agenda with Carolyn Brockway, Managing Editor, as her right-hand man. Don Stevenson, Business Manager, conducted all business transactions. Don Brooks served as Sports Editor and publicity chairman. Copy Editors, Carol Brown and Caroline Cromwell, labored over the copy. Photographers Chris Conn, Jack Easton, and Jon Peterson were kept busy taking all pictures. Hours and hours were spent in the darkroom developing and printing the pictures.

INTEREST CLUBS . . .



Distributive Education Club—This club offered a wonderful opportunity for students to become acquainted with the business world. Under the direction of Mr. Bikkie, they learned many important facts about good salesmanship.

Girl's Athletic Association — Girls interested in athletics were given a chance to participate in basketball, volley ball, tennis, and other sports under the direction of Miss Lamb.

Science Hobby Club—Under the supervision of Mr. Bish and Mr. McMahon, members explored the infinite world of science.

Gun Club — Through the Gun Club, members increased their shooting accuracy and knowledge of gun safety. Mr. Engle is the sponsor.

OF B. H. S. . . .

International Relations Club — In-Rel Club increased in membership this year under the direction of Mrs. Lucia Simons. Assemblies, tours, and speakers were sponsored by this active group. Mr. Schuettler's interest in the group developed their understanding of German.

Bridge Club — Bridge Club members, with the assistance of Miss Griesel and Mrs. Cromwell, learned the fascinating art of playing bridge. They often found there were three more dummies in a foursome than the usual one.

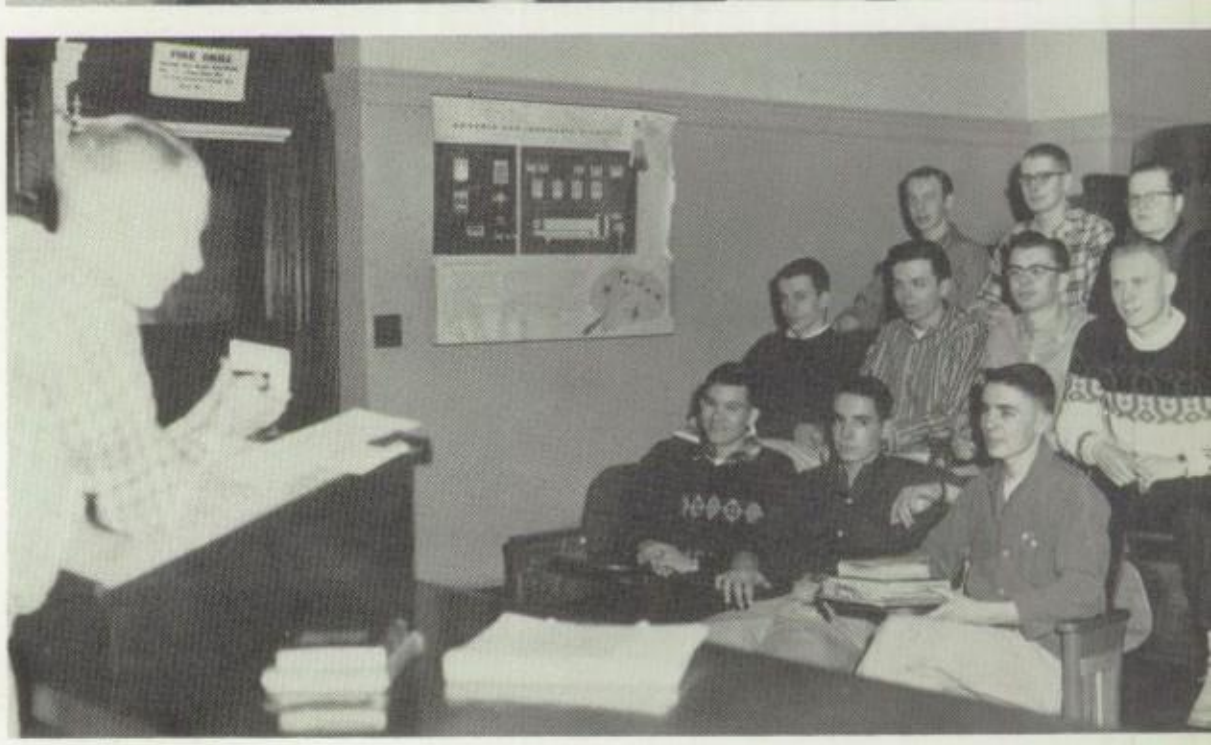
Trigons — A very necessary part of B.H.S. is the Trigons. Selling, passing out programs, and ushering at various school activities are part of their services to the school Mr. Lucas is the sponsor.

Chamber Orchestra — The Chamber Orchestra, directed by Mr. Siebers, provided a small instrumental group which performed for a number of churches and civic organizations.

MET

Radio Club—Among the Radio Club's most prominent activities is the operation of the central sound system and sound for the assemblies. The very capable director is Mr. Wilfred White.

Needlework & Embroidery Club — Under the supervision of Mrs. Riepe, this club mastered the intricate skill of embroidery.



Fire Squad Club In co-operation with the Fire Department, the fire squad conducted fire drills and promoted safety devices and rules in order to eliminate fire hazards within the school. Mr. Bacher is supervisor.

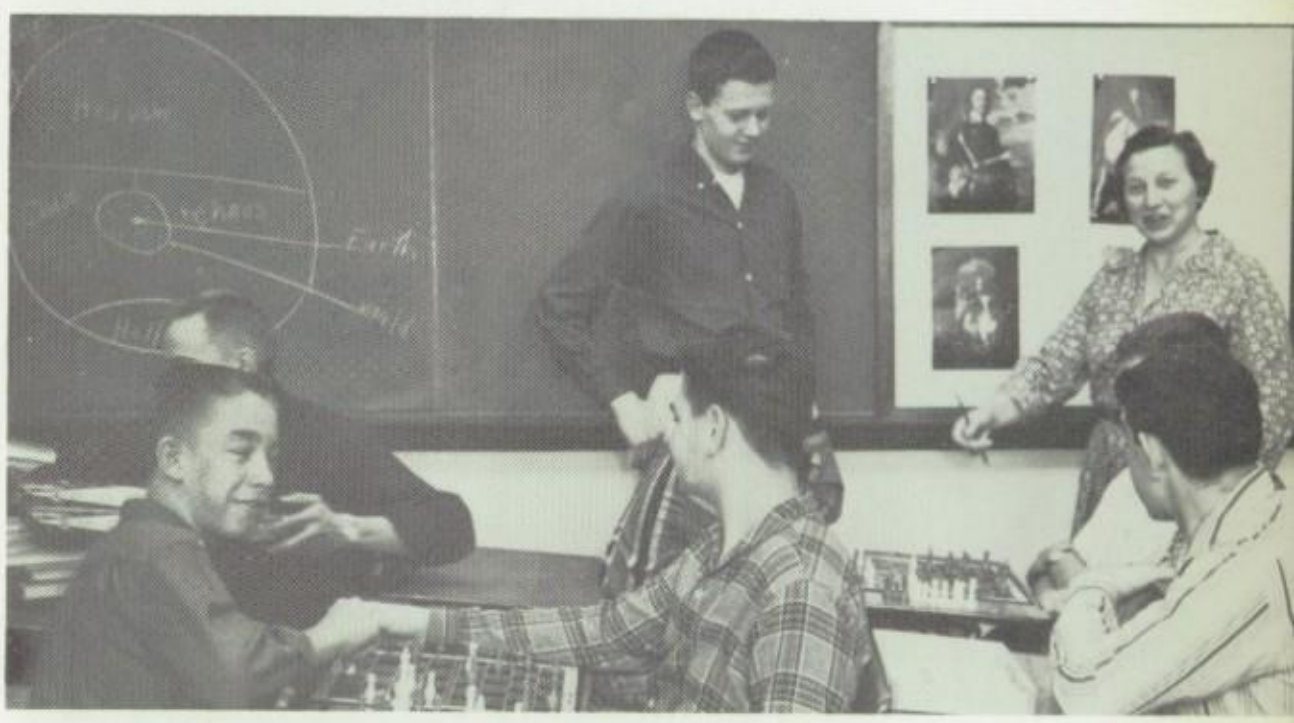
Business Club—With Mr. John Thompson as sponsor, members of the Business Club improved their ability to use office machines. They also made several field trips to business establishments in Burlington.

VOLUNTARILY . . .

Jewelry Club — Creative students designed and made earrings, bracelets, necklaces, and rings in Jewelry Club. They were assisted by Miss Hohlen.

Clothing Club—A variety of garments were sewed by the Clothing Club during their club period. Supervisor is Mrs. Dorothy Scarlett.

Chess Club — An ancient and distinguished game was challenged by the Chess Club with the aid of Mrs. Lowther.



Projection Club An indispensable service is provided for the school by the Projection Club. They scheduled and show all school movies, tape recordings, records, and slides. Mr. Hamilton is the supervisor.

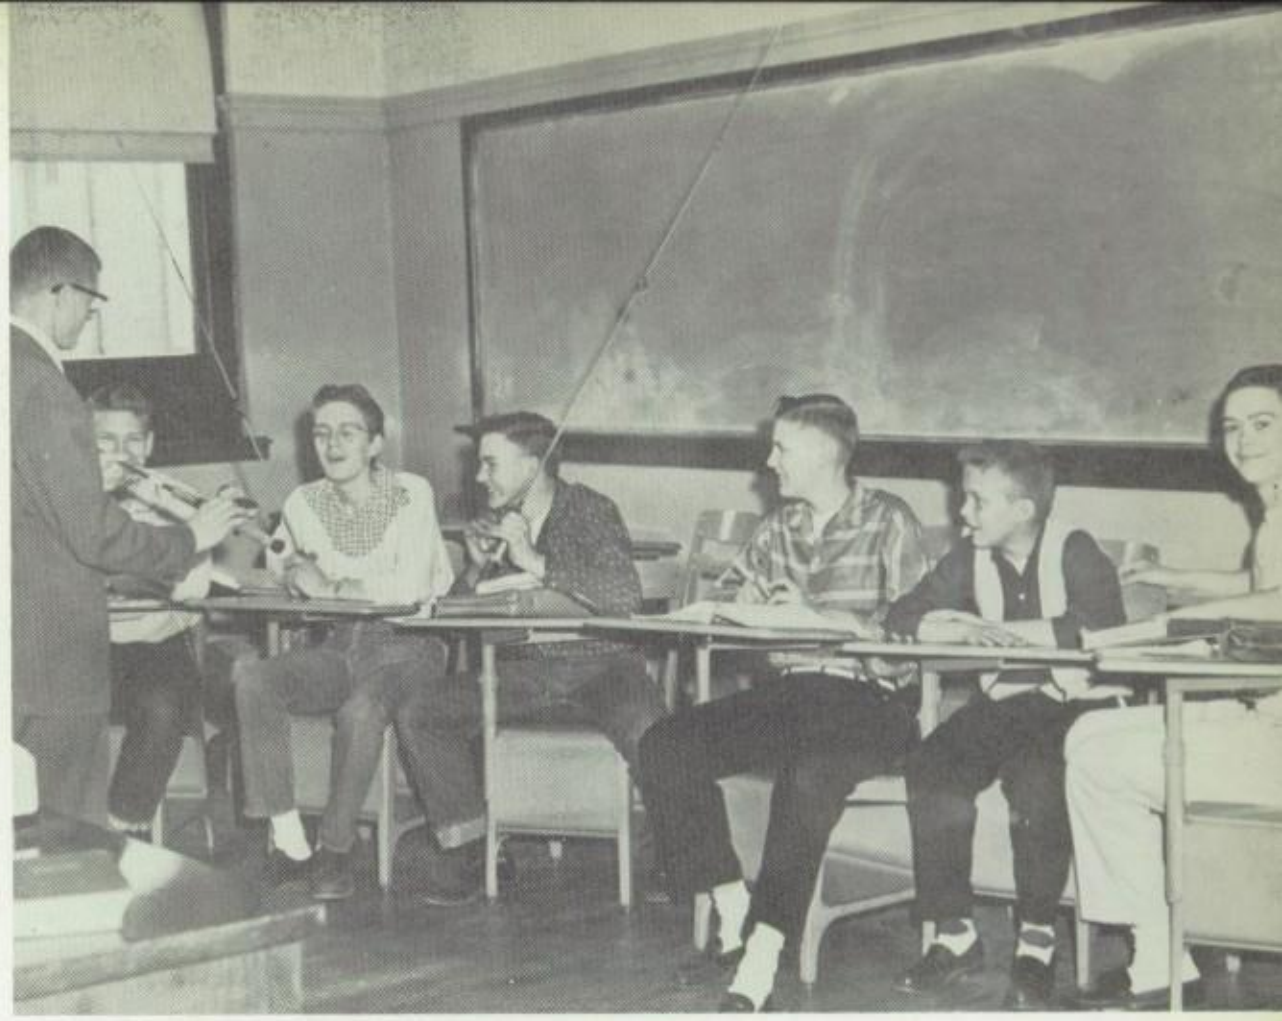
AND LEARNED . . .

Outdoor Crafts Club—With Mr. Smith as director, the Outdoor Crafts Club learned many helpful skills for the enjoyment of outdoor living. The members also took a trip to Chicago.

Drama Club—The Drama Club, under Mr. Bushnell's guidance, gave its members a chance to develop their acting ability. Several plays were presented by the group during the year.

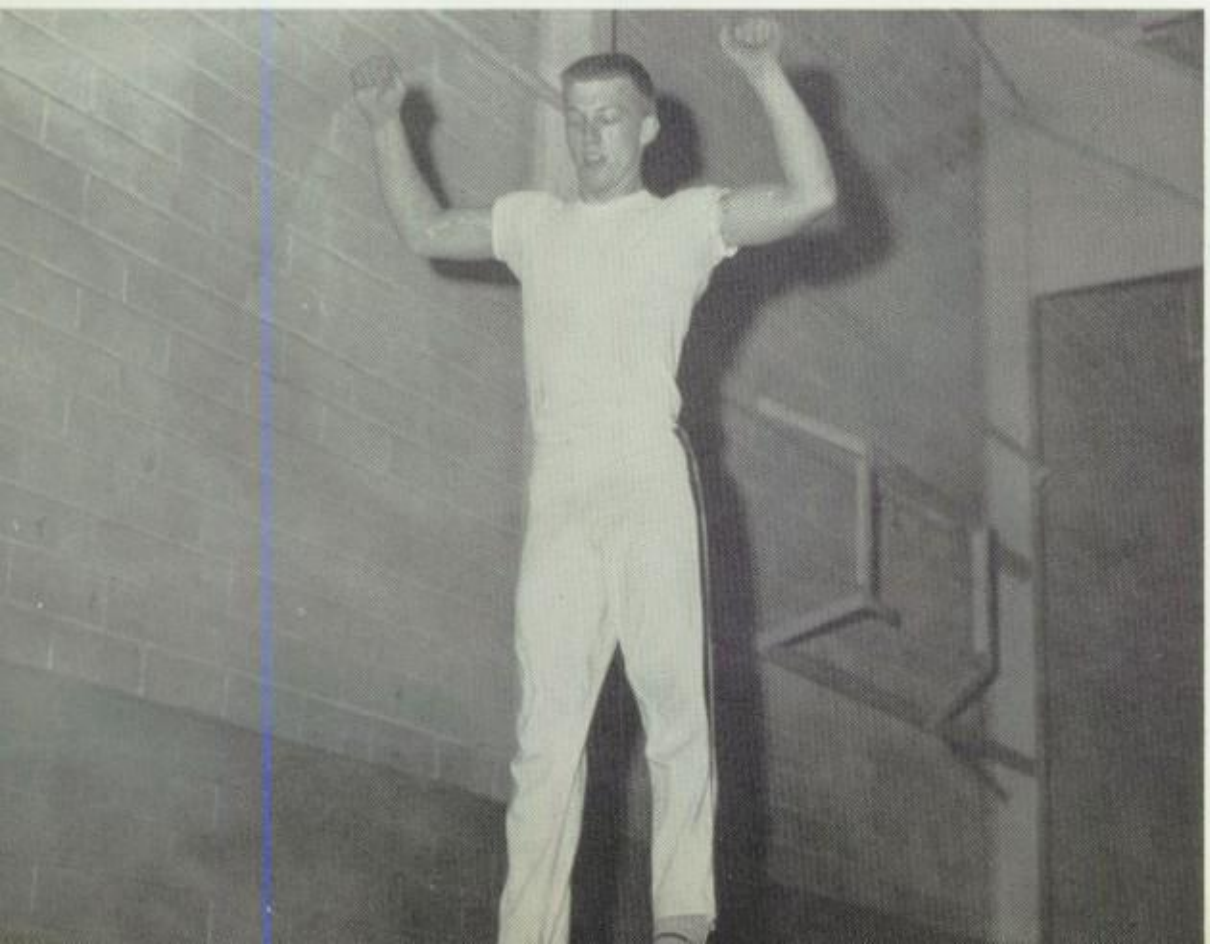
Dance Band—As Mr. Wright wielded the baton, the Dance Band produced popular music for many occasions including, the Mardi-Gras and the Senior Talent Show. They were indeed a popular club at B.H.S.

NEW SKILLS



Rod and Reel Club—Mr. Shirk, the Rod and Reel Club supervisor, taught the boys the fundamental skills of handling fishing equipment and gave them handy tips to use in their sport.

Future Nurses Club—With Mrs. Heath as their leader, the Future Nurses entertained many speakers in fields related to their coming profession. They also learned some basic nursing skills and took a trip to Chicago.



Bar Squad and Tumbling Club—Under Mr. Johannsen's direction, the boys learned feats that developed muscles and improved their dexterity. A basketball game crowd enjoyed a performance by them during half-time.

Glad to see that a few hale and hearty lads escaped the school's worst flu epidemic in years.

Perhaps that pinch to grow an inch will take effect this year, Shirley.

UNCLASSIFIED

Imagination was at its peak as students chose costumes for the Mardi Gras, sponsored by the Romance language department.

CONTEST SPEECH

The art of public speaking was developed by the advanced speech class. They gained experience and won recognition by attending Contest Speech. Competition was divided into three areas: debate, individual events, and plays. B.H.S. representatives from each of these fields qualified for State Contest by receiving the rating of "1" at the District. Congratulations to the students on their fine achievement.

Much of the students' success is due to Mr. Mervin Rummell's constructive criticism and praise.

Much research is required of members of the affirmative and negative debate team.

PRESENTING . . .

Tuning Up!!!

BHS ORCHESTRA

Congratulations, Mike!

B.H.S. Orchestra, under the direction of William Siebers, presented a season of very beautiful music, Concerts were given to appreciative audiences at BHS, the junior high schools, and surrounding cities. Their annual concert, presented in the Memorial Auditorium, was the culmination of endless weeks of practice. This evening of classical and popular music was rated as the "finest in recent years." The hilight of the program was Mike Sherrin's violin solo. Mike, also concert master, displayed much talent and promise for a great future. In addition to extensive concert work, the orchestra participated in festival and contest activities.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR PRESENTED LOVELY MUSIC . . .

As director, Miss McAdams worked long and hard to produce the lovely music.

Providing Burlington with beautiful music was the desire of the Vocal Music Department. During her first year as director, Miss Phyllis McAdams directed the A Cappella Choir, Boys' and girls' Glee Club, and several small ensembles. Many performances were given at school and in the community. After the Christmas program, all activities were directed toward the annual spring concert. Two operas, "The Lowland Sea" and "The Telephone," were on the agenda for March 17th. Chosen for the leads in "The Lowland Sea' were Sharon Lewis and Tom Stevens. With the help of Mr. Lowell Bushnell and weeks of diligent practice, the concert was enjoyed by everyone. A fine showing in the festival at Ottumwa and an excellent record at contest helped make this a very successful year for the department.

The chorus from "The Lowland Sea", by Alec Wilder, admires their colorful sailor costumes.

AND THE BAND PLAYED ON . . .

The B.H.S. band is divided into two sections: the marching band, under the direction of Mr. Robert Smith, and the concert band, directed by Mr. Maurice Wright. Fall activities centered around the marching band. The band added much glamor and excitement as they played at all the home football and basketball games. On October 5th, Burlington was host to twenty-two bands from the surrounding area for Band Day. Sue Orr reigned as B.H.S. band queen. After a spirited parade in the morning, activities were concluded with a mass concert under the direction of Mr. Frank Piersol from Iowa State College. The Pop Concert, performed January 9th, provided a very gay evening of light music. Solos by John Smith and Jim Paulus were enjoyed by everyone. Several concerts were given throughout the year at B.H.S., Horace Mann, and Oak Street. April 17th was the big night for the concert band. The band's annual spring concert, performed at the Memorial Auditorium, included music from Bach to selections from Li'l Abner. With solos by Anita Rockenbach and Ed Waligora, the band presented a very stirring concert. To conclude an excellent season, the band participated in contest and the Tri-City Music Festival.

Mr. Wright directed the concert band.

Marching band, under the direction of Mr. Smith, practices for homecoming activities.

THESPIAN ACTIVITIES

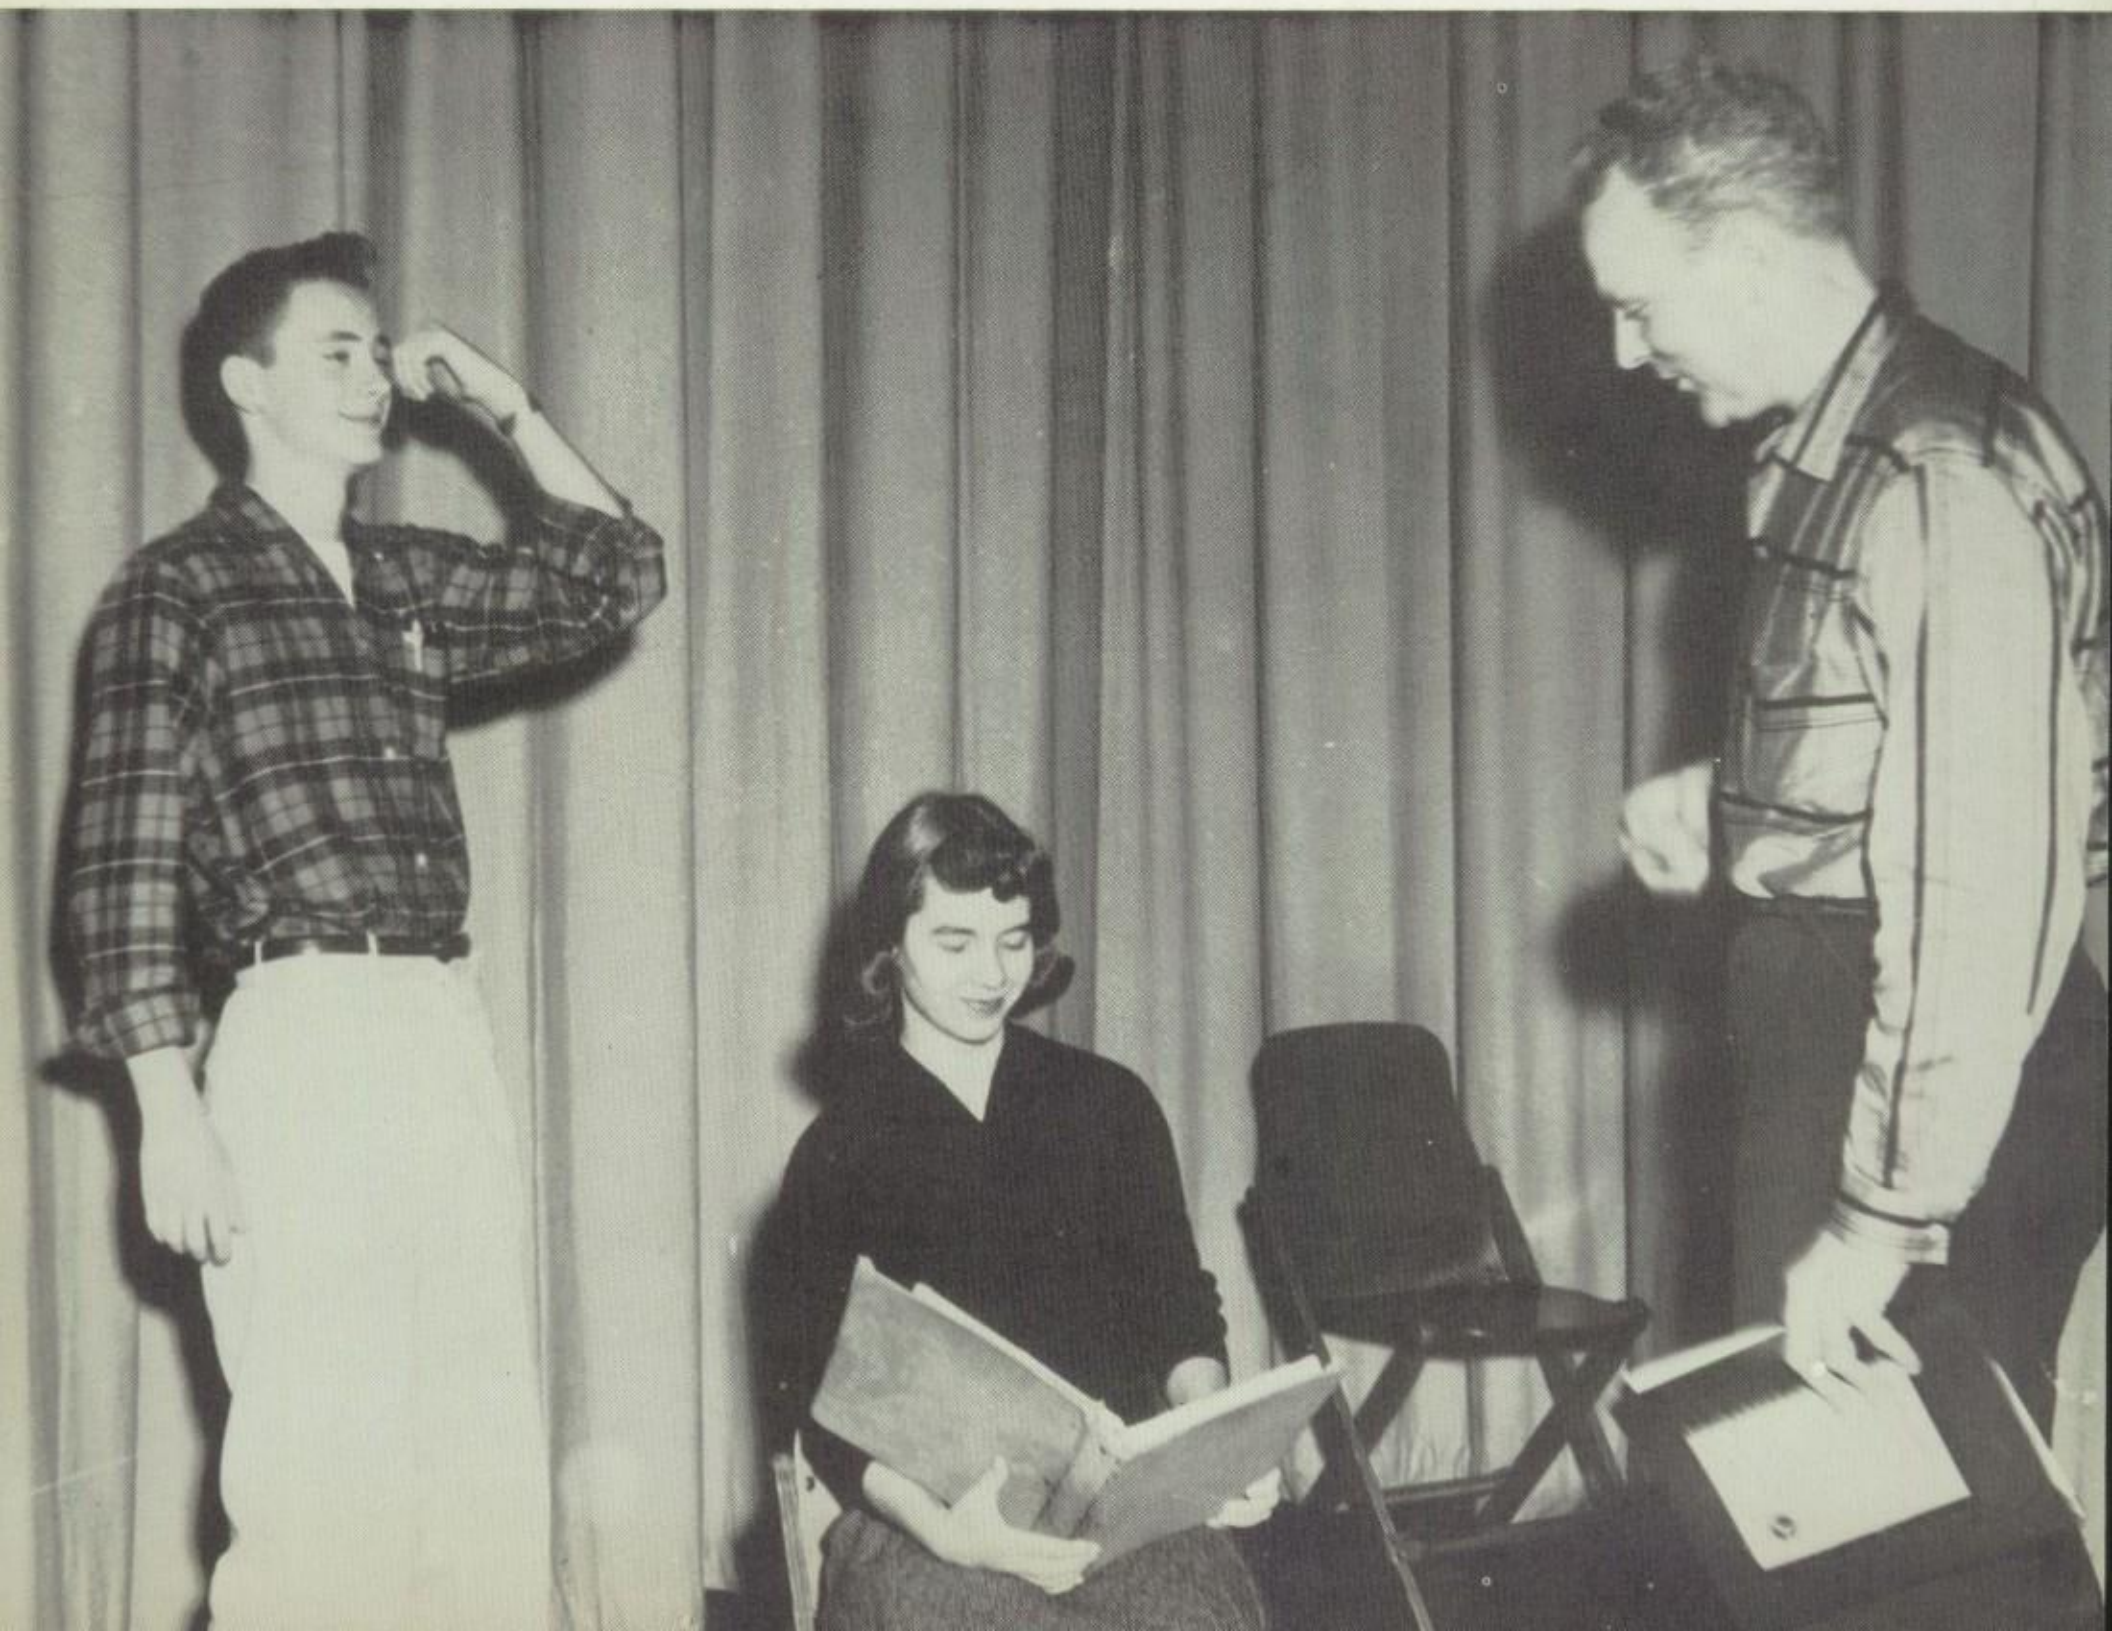
The Thespian Society of B.H.S. under the direction of Mr. Lowell R. Bushnell, successfully enacted several entertaining plays this year.

"Onions in the Stew," directed by Mr. Bushnell, was the first three act play presented by B.H.S. students. The family situation comedy was written by Betty McDonald. The plot concerns the complications encountered by a family as a result of their moving to an island. The family was played by Sharon Horn, Carol Johnston, Bob Limberg, and Marilyn Wickerham.

Two student-directed plays were given for high school assemblies. The first was directed by Ed Butler and Mike Carstensen, the second by Sharon Horn and Carol Johnston.

The last three act play of the year, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," was directed by Mr. Bushnell. George M. Cohan wrote the melodramatic farce. Dale Harris, protraying a novelist, and Marilyn Wickerham, as a newspaper reporter, had the romantic leads. The plot revolves about a novelist who makes a bet that he can write a ten thousand word novel in twenty-four hours.

Time out for some advice from Mr. Bushnell. . .



Michelangelo in the rough. . .

Miss Rhodes was business manager with the assistance of student managers, Diane Pease and Kathy Wilson. Stage manager, Bob Powell, and his crew spent a lot of time designing and building the stage settings.

Twenty hours of participation in some type of crew work — either publicity, make-up, ticket sales, property crew, or stage crew — is required to become a member of the Thespian Society.

All students have profited by their own stage or behind the scenes work, each equally essential to a successful play.

Starting the season with an impressive defeat of East Waterloo, a team ranked high in the state, the Greyhounds went on to end the season with a seven won, two loss record, tying for third place in the Little-Six. Asiatic flu hit the team hard in the middle of the season, making practice impossible and causing postponement of the Ft. Madison game. The flu undoubtedly affected the outcome of some of the games. Co-captains Bob Martin and Gerald Thompson did an excellent job of leading the team. Jerry Schwarz, quarterback, made All-State, and was leading touchdown passer in the state.

Coach Carl Johannsen's sophomore football team with the assistance of Coach Dale Blank, won the Little-Six Mythical Championship with straight wins. The loss of four good men to the varsity, apparently didn't slow them down enough to hurt. Congratulations go to the Graypups for a fine season. We will all look forward to the coming seasons in which we should see much action from them.

HOUNDS END SEASON WITH AN 8-11 RECORD

Although he lost the first seven players of last year's team by graduation, Coach Buck Cheadle came up with a good varsity team that won eight and lost eleven. The record, however, does not show the brand of basketball played by the team. The Greyhounds were outplayed in very few games, but the breaks seemed to always go to the opponents. Five of the games were decided by three points or less, and our team came out on the short end of four of those.

Probably the highlight of the season was the sectional tournament. Led by co-captains Tom Bailey and Bob Martin.

The Greyhounds looked like the team that went to State two years ago. After downing Ft. Madison, the team met Keokuk in what proved to be one of the most exciting games of the season. The game was close from the start, but when the smoke finally cleared, the Greyhounds were on the short end of a 46-44 score, and the season ended for another year.

The sophomores, under Coach Glen Osbourne, ended their season with a record of 9 wins and 10 losses. The Gray Pups played aginst each of the sophomore squads of the same schools which the varsity played. We will be looking forward to seeing some really good basketball in the next two years from these boys.

Ready! Set! Go!

One of the school's most successful teams was the swimming team. Under the direction of coach Dale Blank and led by co-captains Doyle Ruble and Steve Buescher, the Greyhounds won twelve straight dual meets to extend their winning streak to fifteen. One of the highlights of the season was beating Clinton, the State champion swimming team.

The won-lost column does not tell the whole story for the wrestling team, under the direction of Mr. Shirk. At least three meets were lost by only a few points. Half of the wrestlers were first year men, with no previous experience. Lee Davis went to Cedar Falls to the state finals, but was defeated by the current state champion. With this years experience under their belt, we will be looking forward to a more successful season next year.

1958 GRAYHOUND THINCLADS

Coach Carl Johannsen and Assistant Coach Lyle Ebner directed workouts during sixth period and after school in preparation for their coming meets. Under the leadership of Ed Butler and Rod Champion, the "Carlmen" started the season well by placing third in the Little Six Indoor Meet. BHS earned 51 points in the highly contested meet, while Mt. Pleasant compiled 51½ and Ottumwa 53. Burlington brought home top honors at the next three meets—Quincy Invitational, Muscatine Dual, and Keokuk Quadrangular. As the Pathfinder went to press, hopes were high for Burlington's success in the seven remaining meets.

REGISTRATION . . .

THE FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

elevator is straight ahead," instructs Royce to bewildered sophomores.

As the fun-filled days of summer came to an end, we registered in Burlington Senior High School. The days of August 20-22 were filled with excitement, curiosity, and previews of coming events. New teachers, new classes, and new friends forecast new experiences for the coming year.

On the first day of school, the seniors began the final chapter in the story of their high school year, while the sophomores were just opening the cover to three years of fun and hard work.

HOMECOMING '57 A GREAT SUCCESS

Homecoming plans were laid by the Student Council for the bonfire, parade, game, and dance. Committees decorated, worried, and hoped. Queen candidates were selected. Color day, "beat Mt. Pleasant" posters, and skits created good ol' school spirit. After days of sawing, hammering, raiding the local stores for chicken wire and paper napkins, and working late into the night, the day arrived—Homecoming '57.

"Pass the napkins, please."

"Les Girls" . . .Sharon Lewis, Joyce Rieke, Dottie Erickson, Carolyn Brockway, Priscilla Bulmahn, and Delores Wiedemeier . . . select formals for the gala affair at Eklund's.

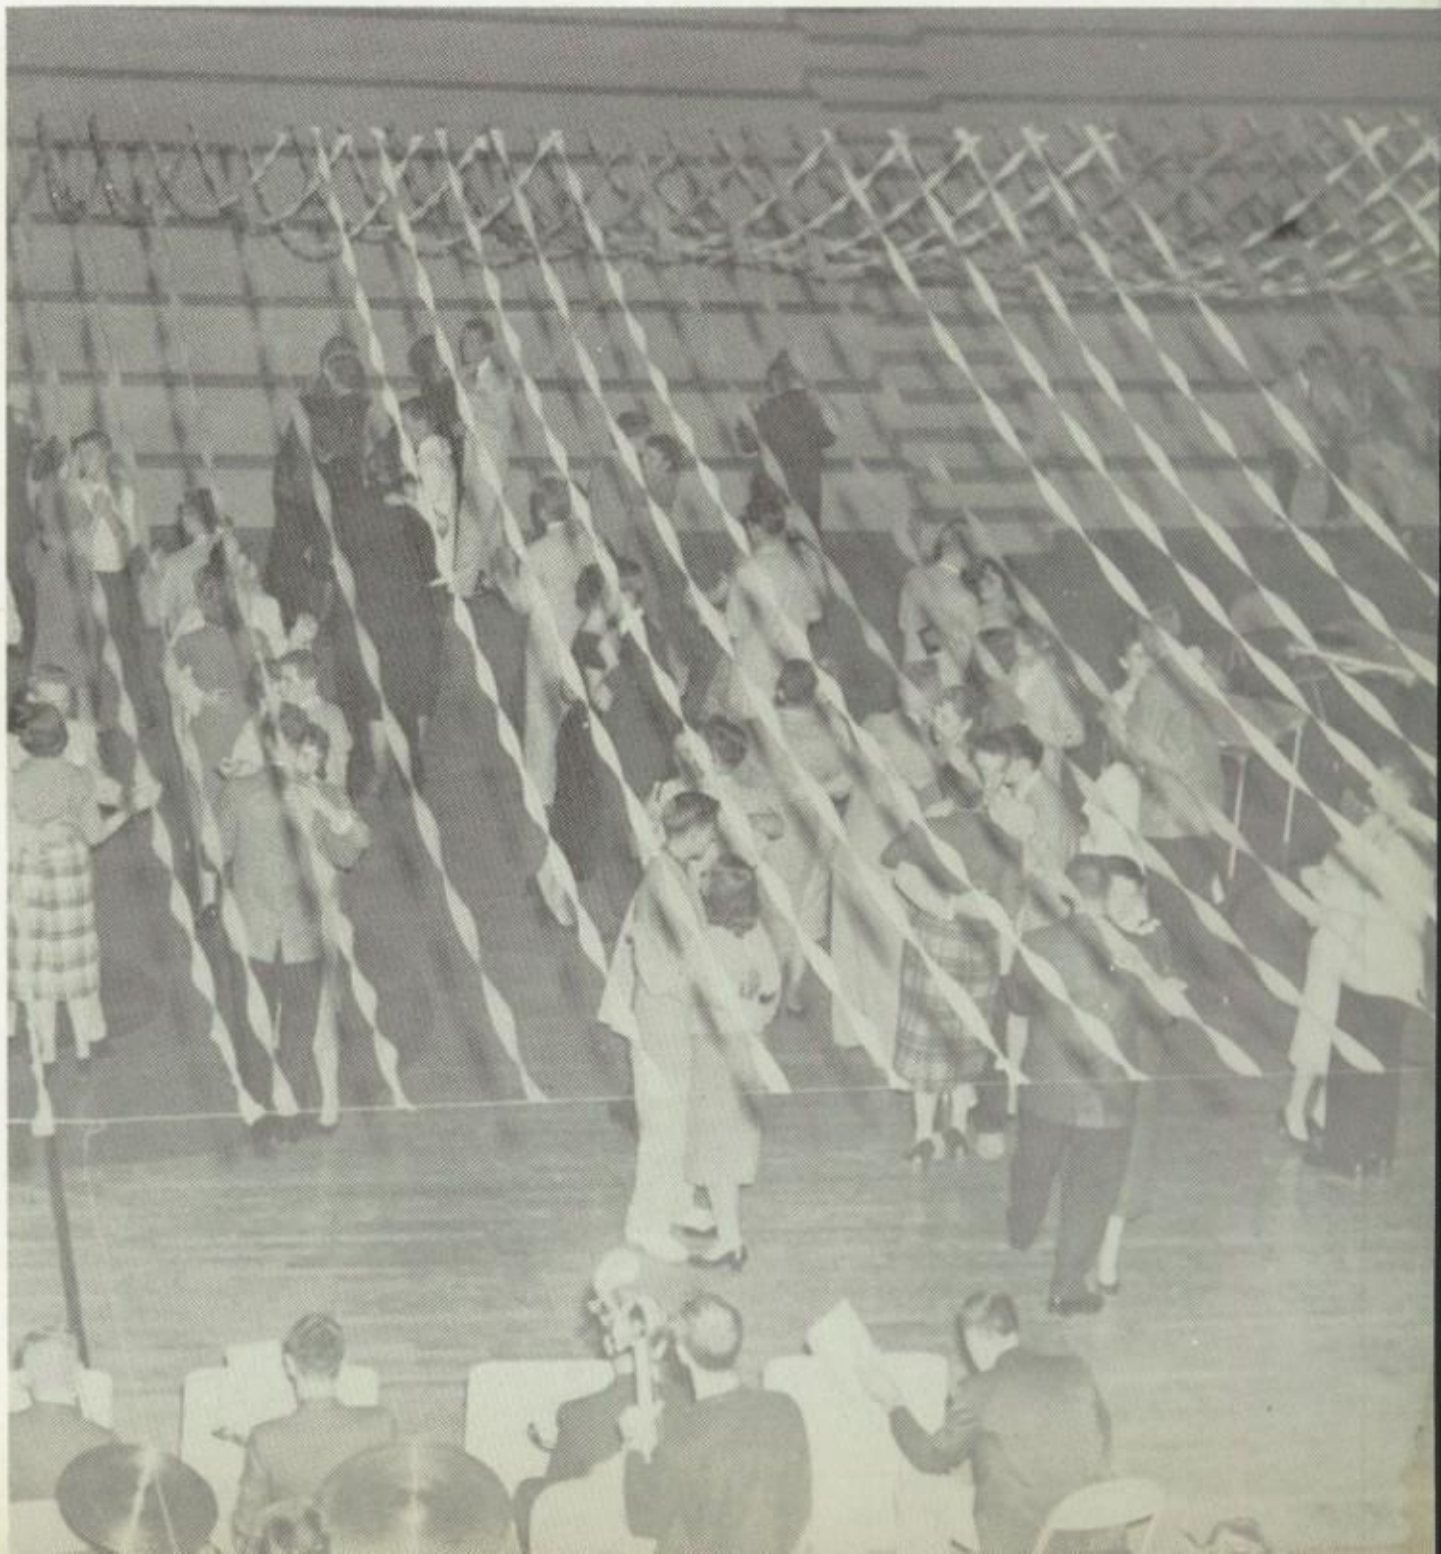
Spirits and temperature rose as the blazing bonfire touched off B.H.S. Homecoming activities the night before the big day.

After the bonfire the cheerleaders led the traditional snakedance, winding through the streets to the Web. Nothing like putting your left foot forward . . . eh, Dottie?

A visit to Mr. Richard's Hair Styling Salon just before the "big dance" makes Judy's hair her crowning glory.

Perfect weather for a parade . . .

We talked, we laughed, we danced . . . just plain fun.



'56 Queen Jackie climaxed Homecoming by crowning Priscilla the '57 queen as attendants Dottie and Carolyn looked on.

At 3:19 everyone rushed to see the parade. Then home for some shut-eye and off again to the game with high hopes for an exciting evening. At half, we oh'd and ah'd as our queens were presented to us in shiny, new convertibles. A last minute check on face and curls, and we left for dancing to the music of the Off Beats. All too soon the clock struck twelve, and Homecoming '57 became a memory.

JUNIOR CLASS PARTY

The Satellite Stomp provided a timely theme for the Junior Class Party, Nov. 23. Unique blue and white decorations and heavenly music created a celestial atmosphere. Reigning over the affair were Virginia Martin and Dave Killian. Class officers, Chris Conn, Sharon McLaury, Janis Bresser, and Karen Vahl, and sponsors, Mrs. Esther Cromwell and Miss Dorothy Powell, deserve much credit for a job well done.

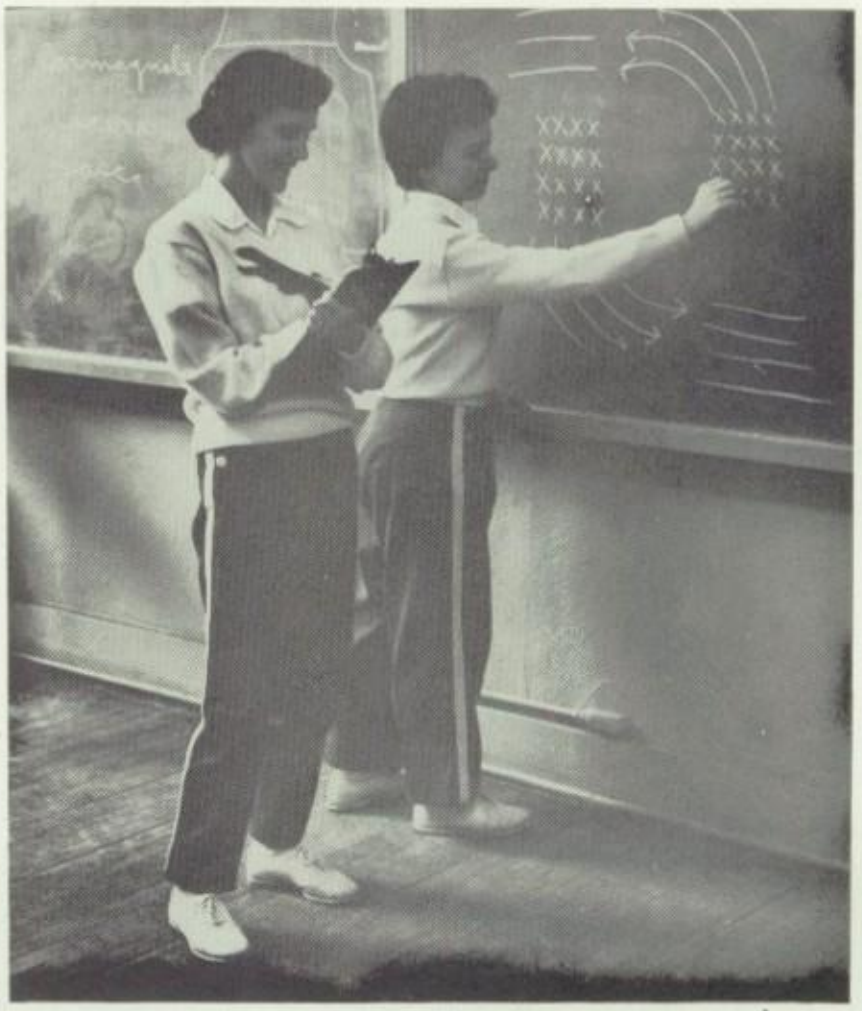
Don't they make a charming couple?

Worked all day . . . danced all night . . .

HI-STEPPERS

The Hi-Steppers' synchronized routines have been a great addition to our games. The girls acquired their precision at many early morning practices. The results were clearly evident when they appeared b e f o r e their appreciatve audiences. The organization, with the assistance of Miss Kelley, has come a long way during its three years of existence. The thirty-two girls should be commended for their fine job.

Co-captains, Janet Conn and Mary Ann Waterhouse, draw plans for a new formation.



Now remember, girls. . . .

VICE-VERSA WEEK

MAKES A HIT

The "weaker sex" took over from March 14-21 to the tune of "It's A Woman's World" and set out to prove it. They showed the boys a good time by taking them to the movies, to dinner, and bowling, among many other things. The week's activities were climaxed by the Vice-Versa Dance over which King Tom Bailey and Queen Sharon Lewis reigned. The junior journalists created a casual mood with blue and white streamers floating from a large, paper napkin world. Warm memories of a wonderful evening led the boys to believe that perhaps it is a woman's world.

After all, what's Vice-Versa Week for?

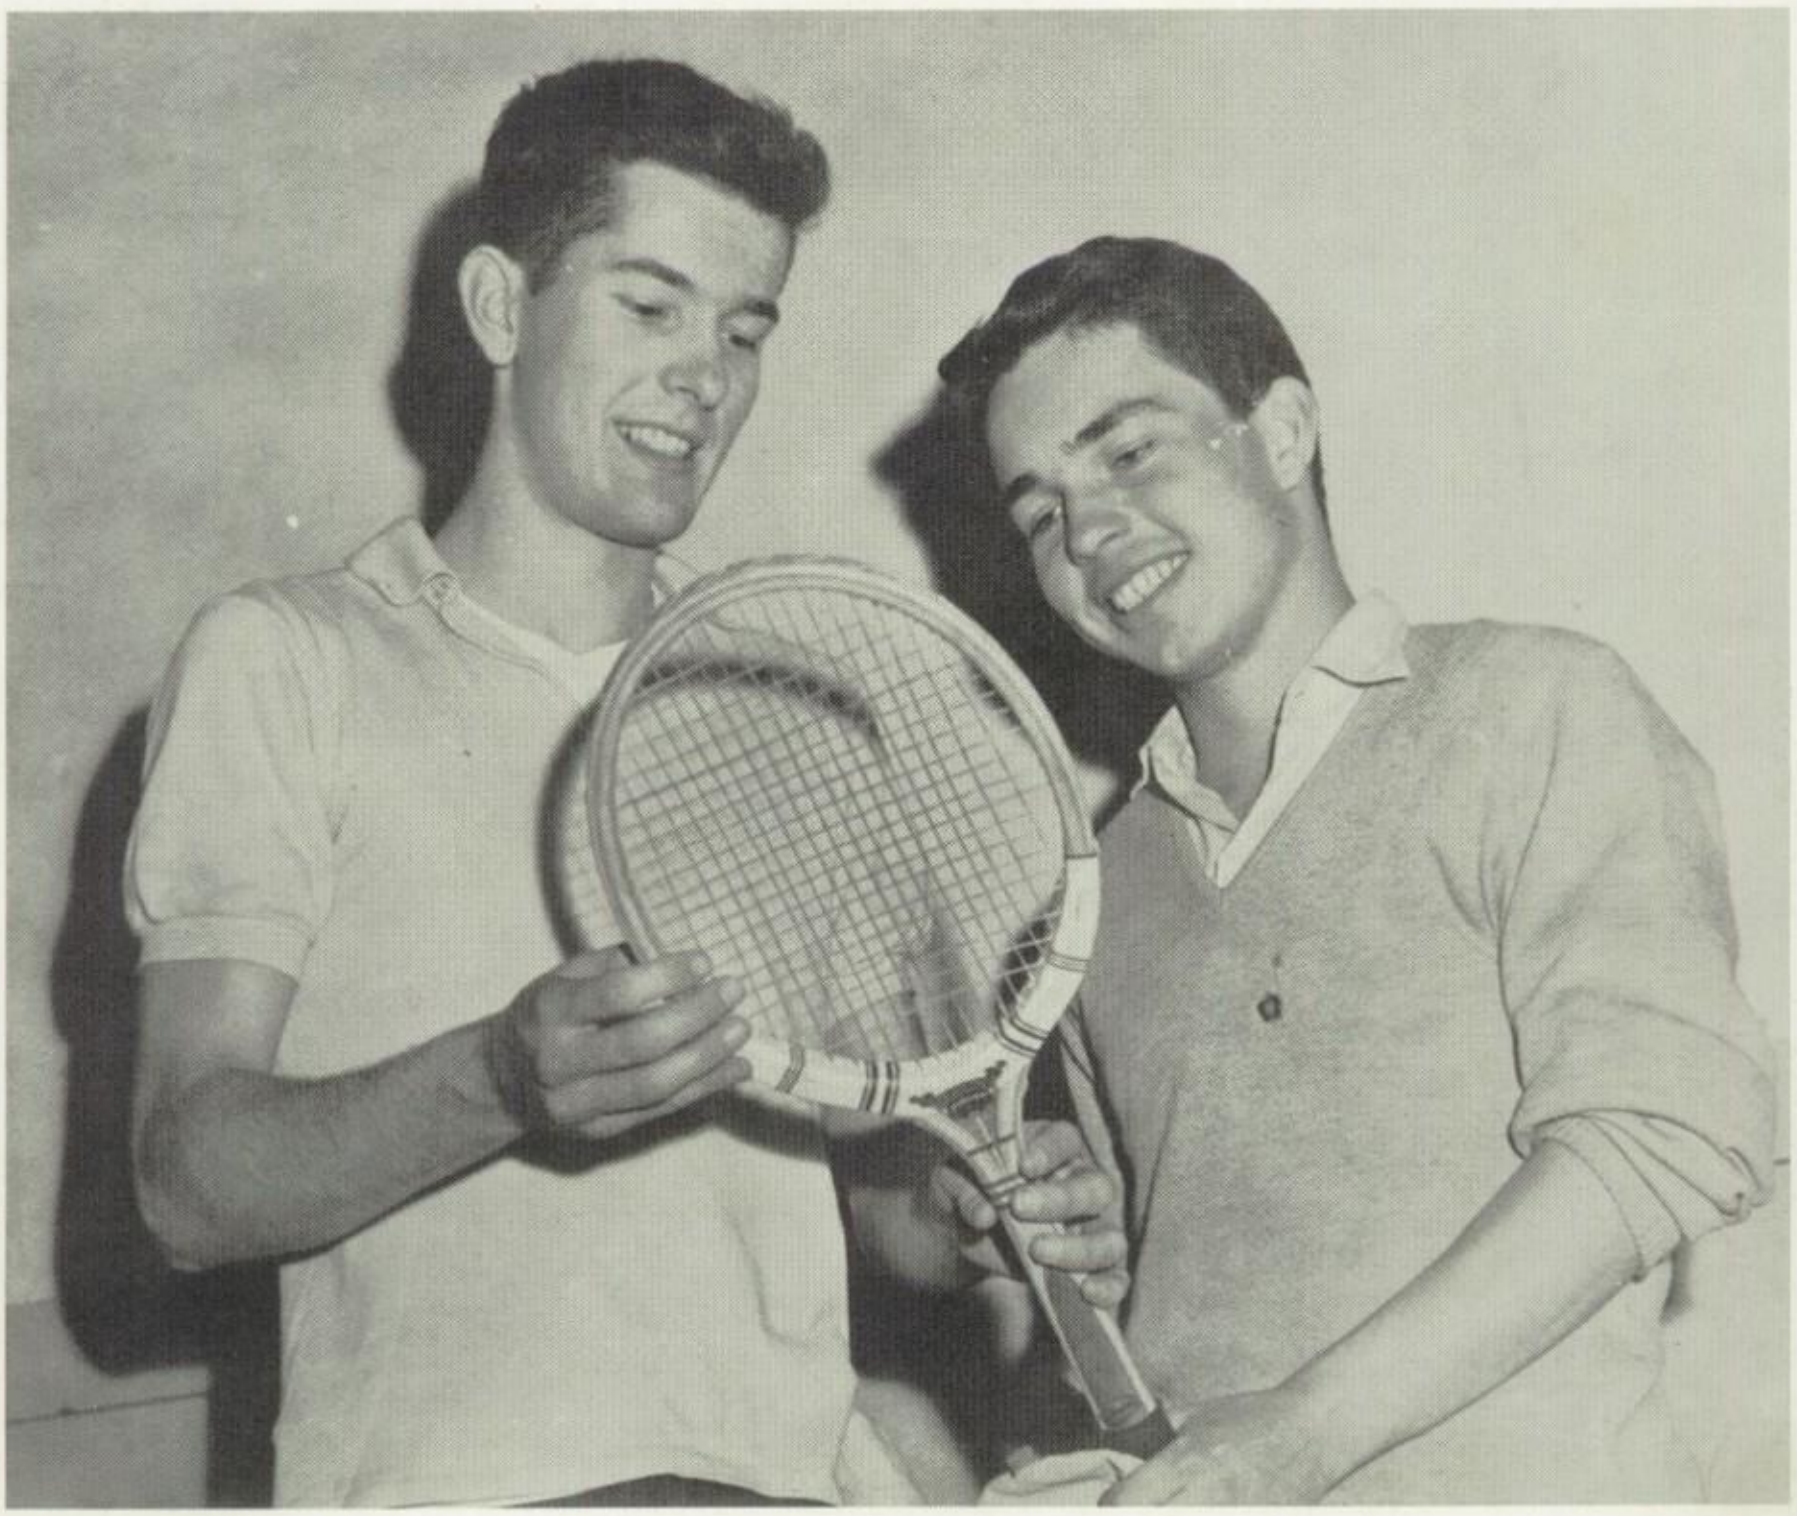
FOREIGN EXCHANGE PROGRAM

BROUGHT WORLD FRIENDSHIP

This international sport, a favorite with both Kjeld Stjernberg and Alan Pistorius, brings our exchange students together. Looking back over the school year, we remember hearing fascinating tales of Kjeld's native Denmark, as well as praises from Alan of his summer-adopted Germany. Our pleasure with our newly acquired Danish friend grew as we watched him win his way into many American hearts. We will certainly feel a big loss when he leaves our land for home. Alan, our friend for many years, reversed the above procedure as he traveled to Germany.

So that's how you get cokes in Denmark!!!



SOPHOMORE

CLASS PARTY

Stuffed fish, sea shells, and fish nets set the mood for the Sophomore class party, the Beach Ball. Don Wills and Sara Dustman reigned over the festive affair as king and queen. Punch, cake, and mints were served in the room adjoining the girls' gym. Mrs. Bonnie Keehn and Mrs. Esther Cromwell assisted the class officers, Jim Lyons, Tina Rowley, Bob Struble, and Don Wills, who each headed a publicity, decoration, entertainment, or refreshment committee. Good planning and cooperation helped to make the evening successful.

Did your wish come true, Don?

YOUTH BELIEVES

"THAT LIFE GIVES BACK

ONLY WHAT WE PUT IN."

Seeking guidance for today's problems and tomorrow's dreams . . .

The Sophomore class enrolled in B.H.S. with very vague and apprehensive ideas. Soon they became accustomed to our schedule and quickly entered into the spirit of things by joining clubs and participating in activities. They elected Student Council representatives, home room officers, and second semester class officers, Don Wills, Christina Rowley, Jim Lyons, and Bob Struble. Among their various duties, class officers plan the sophomore party and collect dues. Big things are expected from this fine class.

The Junior class, moving into a more prominent position, began wielding influence in many organizations. A junior was selected to represent B.H.S. in the Foreign Exchange Program. Aside from collecting dues, the first semester officers, Chris Conn, Sharon McLaury, Janis Bresser, and Karen Vahl, organized the class party and second semester officers, Bill Petersen, Lynnie Goodbar, Darlene Callaway, and Tom Cromwell planned the Junior-Senior Prom. The seniors feel confident that they are leaving the school in very capable hands.

SENIORS, OUR

GREEN YEARS IN REVIEW

What is a senior? The answer depends on your point of view. To a sophomore, a senior is that obnoxious person who is always right. To a junior, a senior is that "big wheel" in whose shoes he longs to be. But to us who finally find ourselves at the top of the heap, to be a senior is to provide leadership as an officer of student council, or as editor of the Purple and Gray or the Pathfinder. To be a senior is to worry over class rank and discuss Shakespeare as well as last night's date. To be a senior is to prepare for the future by taking College Entrance Board Exams, National Merit Scholarship tests, and visiting on the campuses of Iowa State, SUI, and State Teacher's. To be a senior is to enjoy every stimulating class, to spend long hours with our friends discussing "life," to make the most of every game, dance, or party because "This is our last." In short, to be a senior is to be self-confident, yet full of self-doubt; adventurous, yet afraid; happy, yet sad. To be a senior is to write an end and a beginning.

THROUGH THE YEARS

WE HAVE . . .

"Bewitched, bothered, and bewildered" could easily have been our theme song as we began our high school career at good ol' BHS. While Sharon Lewis and Delores Wiedemeier cheered them on, our soph football squad brought home the laurels with an undefeated season. Second semester rolled around, and we elected class officers . . . Tom Bailey, Steve Buescher, Carolyn Brockway, and Dave Buhmeyer . . . who planned the very successful class party, "When You Wish Upon A Star."

COMPETED

FOR HONORS . . .

Elevated, but still underclassmen, we started our junior year by electing new class officers. Alan Pistorius, Delores Wiedemeier, Carolyn Plock, and Pat Wilson chose a southern theme for the junior class party, "The Cotton Ball" . . . Other juniors chosen for honors were Pat Engle, Band Queen, and Dottie Erickson, Sharon Lewis, and Pat Peavey, peppy cheerleaders on the varsity squad.

PROVIDED LEADERSHIP . . .

Holding positions as class officers second semester were Steve Buescher, Jim Stanbary, Sharon Lewis, and Alice Pemble. Their big project, the Junior-Senior Prom, "Magic Mist," with its sea fantasy, was one of the best ever. "Friendly Persuasions," the dance climaxing the memorable, but hectic, Vice-Versa week, was engineered by the junior journalists.

MET NEW CHALLENGES . . .

As juniors, we were busy through the summer also. Alan Pistorius spent an exciting three months in Germany as our first exchange student. Dale Hurliman traveled to New York as a winner of the United Nations contest. And Jim Stanbary was our delegate to Boys' State.

ACQUIRED PRESTIGE . . .

The summer months flew by, and first thing we knew, the doors of Grayhoundia beckoned. It was good to get back into the swing of things. As class elections took place, we found only one newcomer to the ranks — Bob Wills. Along with Bob, Tom Bailey, Pat Wilson, and Delores Wiedemeier undertook to sell memory books and thank-you notes, besides their regular duties of collecting class dues and taking orders for graduaton announcements and name cards.
